

THE WAINWRIGHT STAR

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR BOARD OF TRADE

With the assurance already given that plans for a railway, to be built by the Canadian Northern from Vermilion to Wainwright, are being considered, it is a prevalent opinion among the citizens and those interested in the town and surrounding community that some action should be taken by our Board of Trade and a letter if nothing more forwarded to the company, petitioning that the line be constructed as soon as possible.

Many sane and reasonable arguments could be advanced to show the need of such a line, chief of which would lie in the fact that the road would traverse one of the richest and most fertile districts in the whole West. Such a statement cannot be denied by anyone, who has observed the remarkable strides that the country, intervening between the two points.

During no year in the history of this section of Alberta have the crops in the north country proved as great a failure as in other sections. The soil is of exceptionally fine quality and produces the best possible results.

It is to be hoped that the Board of Trade will still maintain its aggressive spirit and encourage in whatever manner possible the early construction of this line.

CONCRETE WORK COMPLETED ON NEW RINK

There is no uncertainty with which the work on the new rink building is progressing. For the past two weeks, upwards of twenty five men have been busily engaged in levelling off the ground, placing the footings and getting things in shape to raise the respective ribs and bents.

Three bents have already been constructed and are being built at the rate of one every two days. These bents are of very large dimensions, being ninety feet in width at the base and thirty-five from the base of the arch to the spring. All the footings have been completed during the past few days of mild weather and a better job could not be done. Foreman T. E. Dolan states that these were finished under the most adverse conditions but from all appearances, they have been accurately placed.

The greatest difficulty being encountered at the present time is found in levelling the ground so that it can be flooded properly. The earth is frozen to such a depth as to compel the workmen to use axes and literally chop down the places where they exceed the established grade.

From what has been done so far, no fears are entertained as to the building, not being constructed properly and according to plans and specifications.

Much interest is being taken by the public in the moving pictures that are shown at the Auditorium and many comments of a most favorable nature are being passed in the direction of Small Bros., for their enterprise in starting such a place of enjoyment in the town.

ELEVATOR WOULD NOT WORK - SHEEP STOPS WHOLE OF MACHINERY

The friends of Mr. George Richardson have been having a good laugh at his expense for the past week, the cause for it being an amusing incident that occurred at the local elevator, where he holds forth as manager. Upwards of a dozen teams were lined outside the elevator and the machinery refused to start. Mr. Richardson decided to have a look around and, on going into the pit, found that a sheep was lodged in the belting.

Club Plans Strong Line of Culture

Steps will immediately be taken by the newly formed Young Men's Club in the town to secure rooms and arrange a line of work for the winter season. Although a building is not available at the present time, arrangements will be made to this end at the earliest possible opportunity.

President S. E. James is determined to make a success of the Club and decide on a routine of work that will be mutually beneficial to the members. It is probable that one of the first things arranged will be a debating society, that will work in conjunction with the organization. At all events, it is certain that sincere efforts will be extended.

WHEAT $8 BUSH.

Mr. Seager Wheeler of Rosethorn, Sask., who captured Sir Thomas Shaugnessy's $1,000 for the best sample of wheat grown on the American continent, has recently disposed of his grain to the Mooney Seed Co. of Regina for $8 per bushel. Mr. Wheeler's yield per acre was 80.66 bushels.

SAYS COUNTRYMAN HAS AT LAST DISCOVERED PERPETUAL MOTION

"Perpetual motion" has at last been discovered, according to a newspaper, recently received from Switzerland by John Manner. The paper prints the photograph of a clock being run by wheels and weights, making up a combination that gives continuous or "perpetual motion". Mr. Manner is naturally pleased that one of his countrymen should be the discoverer of this long-sought device.

Will be Operated on for Appendicitis

E. D. Stimpson, the well known local architect, has been complaining for the past week of internal troubles, and until last night his condition was not considered serious. He was seized with violent pains and was compelled to consult Dr. Little, who advised that he should go to Edmonton immediately in order to undergo an operation for appendicitis.

Following this advice, he went to Edmonton by this afternoon's express and was accompanied by P. E. Ross, by whom arrangements will be made for hospital quarters. It is probable that he will be taken to the General Hospital, where Dr. Watson is at present confined.

Unjustified Complaints

Farmers, who have complained of the classification being received for their grain at local elevators, have in a few cases been compelled to admit that they are getting a square deal from George Richardson, the local manager. One farmer in particular, who complained that his wheat should grade more than No. 4, gave a sample to Secretary King of the local Board of Trade and it was forthwith sent to the Government graders at Winnipeg for advice in the matter.

This particular sample was graded No. 5 by him and the statement made in his communication that the price received at Fort William was half a cent higher than that prevailing here. When freight is taken into account, the difference is very small and it would appear that there is not sufficient grounds for dissatisfaction.

SEES MANY CHANGES

Mr. Archie Stewart, one of Wainwright's pioneers and who was employed as a civil engineer on the G. T. P. in the early days of the town, was here yesterday. Since leaving here, he has started ranching in Southern Alberta and has made good. He was greatly surprised to see that the town had made such rapid strides.

FARMERS FROM GILT EDGE FORM BIG SYNDICATE

Action has been taken by the farmers of the Gilt Edge district and on Monday evening a syndicate was formed of the influential residents of that locality, who subscribed different amounts for the purchase of a threshing outfit. Practically none of the grain in that district is as yet threshed and the outfits are not to be secured. The order for the new threshers was sent in yesterday by W. S. Goulet.

Mr. R. J. Rooney, who directs the different telephone and telegraph crews along the line of the G. T. P., returned to Wainwright from Prince Rupert on Friday. He will remain here for a few weeks.

Mrs. E. Cummings, who has been visiting friends and relatives in Picton, Ont. for the past four months, returned here on Friday last. Needless to say, she was welcomed back by her many friends.

S. Sorenson and Bruce Nichols are considering starting another dray business in the town, in which event, it would appear that this field was considerably crowded.

Find your way into our columns, they will bring you more results than you could estimate.

POLITICAL FAVOR SHOULD NOT BE SHOWN

Candidates, Aspiring to Municipal Honors Fatal to Towns Best Interests

During the course of the next few days, the mayors will be called upon to nominate candidates for the forthcoming municipal elections. At this time and, previous to the day on which the nominations will take place it would, perhaps be in order to make a few suggestions, which, if acted upon, would do much to straighten out matters and prevent further friction from taking place.

It is the avowed duty of every citizen to favor those candidates, who, in their opinion, will make the best representatives and administrators, irrespective of partisanship or faction, popularity or individual favor. It is too often the case that party politics figure most prominently in such matters and it is a certainty that such is to be regretted. During the past few weeks, this has been extremely noticeable on the part of certain citizens, who have contended that this man or that man should be nominated because he represented such and such a party. Too often it is the case that during rash moments, rash statements are made that under other circumstances would not be uttered or thought of.

If these things could be laid aside and the good and welfare of the town taken to heart, a decidedly different attitude and feeling would prevail, where now considerable and in fact too much strife marks almost every move that is made. The citizens and ratepayers of Wainwright are here for mutual benefit and should work to that end. If, on the other hand, turmoil is effected internally, it is evident and reasonable that it will show certain unfavorable results on the exterior.

It is then the admitted duty of each and every citizen to exercise his honesty, and select those men, who, apart from party politics, will stand by the town and administer its affairs in an honest and proper manner.

It will be remembered that Kaid Belton arrived in this town during the month of August 1910, and created no small amount of sensation when it was learned that he was formerly the commander-in-chief of the Moroccan army and had placed the present Sultan on the throne.

FOR MAYORALTY HONORS

Mayor Pawling, Who will Again Stand for Office, and who, from all Present Indications, will be Elected by Acclamation.

Mrs. Lally, who has been laid up for sometime past, suffering from the results of a sprained ankle, is recovering and has been out several times lately.

Confidence in the Town

A short time ago, A. E. Mills of the Wainwright Realty Co. of this town, purchased the East Half of Section 32 from Mr. George Reid. Since that time, the S. E. quarter of this property has been sold to the Montreal and Western Land Co., who intend placing it on the market in the near future.

Mr. Mills still holds the S. E. quarter and as soon as there are more definite announcements in reference to the lines of railway into the town this also will be placed on the market. Mr. Mills shows no abatement in his great confidence that Wainwright, while during the near future, become one of the best and most prosperous towns in the West. Otherwise he would not have ventured into such a large deal.

PHOTOGRAPHIC STUDIO

During the course of the next few weeks and before the Christmas season arrives, a photographic studio will be opened on Second Avenue in the Small Block, rooms already having been engaged by a photographer from Saskatchewan. When the rooms, now being used as a fire hall, are vacated, he will move into these quarters.

FALLS 400 FT. AND SUSTAINS FATAL INJURY

It was with no small degree of regret that the citizens read in the Winnipeg Free Press last week of the fatal accident, sustained by Kaid Belton, a former employee of the engineering department of the G. T. P., and who was well known to many of the citizens.

The report stated that Belton fell 400 feet from an aeroplane, sustaining injuries that were thought to be fatal. The accident occurred in the Pullman field at Chicago, where the former army officer was studying aviation.

It will be remembered that Kaid Belton arrived in this town during the month of August 1910, and created no small amount of sensation when it was learned that he was formerly the commander-in-chief of the Moroccan army and had placed the present Sultan on the throne.

H. V. FIELDHOUSE, Solicitor for the applicants.

All subscribers on changing their addresses are asked to notify the STAR office to that effect, in order that copies will not be left uncalled for.

FIRE BRIGADE DON'T WANT RESPONSIBILITY OF WHOLE EQUIPMENT

A meeting has been called by Fire Chief Washburn for December 6th, when several matters of an important character will be considered by the brigade. The fire brigade does not think that they should assume the whole responsibility of the increased equipment, recently added, and application has been made to the Fire Water and Light Committee. It is expected that the matter will be looked into by the Council at an early date.

Pres. Lally Gives Town Publicity

From the newspaper articles, appearing in the three Edmonton dailies, Mr. C. T. Lally, President of the local Board of Trade, was evidently the central figure of an army of scribes and journalistic reporters while in the city last week. "The Progress of Wainwright" was his chief topic and he continued himself in no small degree to his subject.

While in Edmonton he dealt a double hand, and coupling the town's best interests with his own, followed out what Secretary Fisher of the Edmonton Board had suggested at the businessmen's banquet, and "boosted for Wainwright," first, last and all the time.

SAFE AS A BANK

Mr. James Madder, a recent arrival in town, has purchased from the Wainwright Realty Co. three lots, located on 5th and 6th Ave. Mr. Madder says that, after sizing up the town, he has seen no place where investment was so safe. "In fact," says he, "investment is as safe as a bank." He intends buying more real estate in the near future.

HAVE YOU THE WATCH?

H. C. King, the local jeweller, has started a new line of advertising and on Saturday night next will give away a silver wrist watch at the moving picture show. The watch will be given to some local young man as he enters the show and, on being asked by any young lady, "Have you the watch?", must hand it over to the lady asking the question. A splendid opportunity is offered some young lady to obtain a free watch.

Local Couple Return After Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Covey have returned to Wainwright to reside after their wedding in Brandon, Manitoba, on Wednesday last. The ceremony, which was held at the home of the bride's mother, was performed by Rev. R. S. Laidlaw.

Both the bride and groom are well known here, the latter being a conductor of the G. T. P. and running out of here. The bride, who was formerly Miss Ethyl Brock, has resided in the town for the past two years.

Congratulations are in order, and their numerous friends will join the STAR in wishing them many years of happiness.

WAINWRIGHT IS LOUDLY PRAISED IN ENGLAND

The publicity that Wainwright is receiving in periodicals, magazines and newspapers is not by any means confined to this country or to this continent alone. Periodicals with wide circulations in England and the Old Country are also publishing articles on the town and district and are giving both a marked prominence in the homes of hundreds of thousands of subscribers. A great number of these subscribers are probable, emigrants, who are considering the journey across the water and a farm on the prairies of the Great North West.

One of the more recent write-ups on the town and surrounding community has appeared within the covers of a prominent periodical of London, England, entitled "Canada." The title of the article in reference to Wainwright is called, "Wainwright and its Environs." The article is most cleverly written and is illustrated with several cuts of the town, together with engravings of farm scenes in the district.

This article, which was written by Mr. R. Aykroyd, who is at present in England on publicity work, will undoubtedly produce splendid results. The drift of the whole is a most convincing and appealing, yet ordinary, news article, that does credit to the writer.

COUNCIL

The last meeting of the town council before the day of nominations for the three councillors to be elected on December 11th, was held last night with the whole Board, with the exception of Dr. Watson, present.

Considerable interest in the forthcoming contest was evinced and shown by the fact that the meeting was such a representative one.

Several communications were read by the secretary, included among which was one from the Wainwright Realty Co. in connection with the purchase of the lots on which the rink is being constructed. A motion was finally passed, authorizing the issue of a cheque for $1,200, the amount of the tender.

A delegation from the Agricultural Society was present and asked that a sub-committee be organized for as long a period as possible. The matter was laid over until the next committee meeting.

Chief Washburn of the Fire Brigade was present also and wanted something done to reorganize the brigade, in view of the fact that much interest was being lost by the members. This was also promised consideration at the committee meeting.

Coun. Covey of the public Works Comm. reported on the street grading and recommended that the contractor be paid 80 per cent of the money due him. By motion this was carried.

Constable Robt. Kenney stated to the councillors that Yee Sing, a Chinese laundryman, was not following the town ordinances and was emptying refuse in dangerous places. He also reported the fact that a certain citizen paid no attention to his many notices to repair a defective flu that was contrary to the safety of certain buildings. The matter was discussed by the councillors and action will be immediately taken.

Mixed Farming Opportunities

At no time in the history of the Western grain fields, and of this section of the province in particular, was a better opportunity afforded the farmers of the country to start the most profitable and what would eventually prove the most adaptable of Western farming pursuits.

It is a recognized fact that all over the country, this year's crop has been more or less of a failure, with the result that when marketing their grain, the farmers got little or nothing for their work. Low grades and poor classification have been typical of this year's harvest and in many cases the farmers are more or less discouraged with the results. There is, however, no need for this, if the proper means are taken to make the best of what they have and ultimately secure the highest value of their grains.

There is no doubt in the assertion that the Wainwright district will be best suited for mixed farming for several years to come and with this year's crop this has been conclusively proven. As a result, many of the district farmers have taken the only reasonable course and have purchased a few cattle, a few hogs, a flock of hens to which they are feeding their surplus low grade grain.

Several progressive farmers, who reside in the neighborhood of the town, and who have followed along the line of mixed farming since they moved into the district, now state that the crop failure has made absolutely no difference and that the grade of the grains will mean no loss to them. This should suffice as a proof to the average tiller of the soil that the sooner he purchases a few head of stock and starts mixed farming even on a small scale the quicker will the results of his labor bear fruit.

It is well to see, that many of the district farmers are recognizing this fact and have arrived at the conclusion that grain growing does not constitute the one means of livelihood upon which they must depend.

Sir Wilfred to Remain as Leader

In a recent banquet at Ottawa, tendered in honor of Sir Wilfred Laurier, the ex-premier stated that he was willing to remain as leader of the liberal party as long as his services were required. This is certainly most gratifying to not only the liberals of the land but to all conservatives as well. Sir Wilfred has devoted the best part of his life to Canada and at this time, it would be most regrettable were he to leave the parliament of the country to which he has sacrificed his services.

Lethbridge Makes Wise Move

Lethbridge has decided to adopt the single tax method of taxation with the coming year. The idea has met with general favor in this part of the West and it is thought that it is only a matter of time before it will be prevalent.

Wainwright Gets Much Publicity

Wainwright has been receiving much publicity as the immediate result of the most successful banquet held here last week by the Board of Trade. When things are moving internally, it doesn't take much time for attention from outside sources.

Buffalo Park will not be Moved

There is some talk of the Buffalo Park at this point being moved further West. Whatever truth there may be in these statements it is impossible to say, although by the removal of the National Reserve, upwards of seven hundred and twenty quarter sections would be available for homesteads. It is thought, however, that the rumor arose from the fact that a few will be removed to the new reservation at Jasper Park.

Municipal Nominations Monday

On Monday next, the electors of Wainwright will be called upon to nominate candidates for the municipality and council, and from present appearances the sitting officials will have no opposition. Whether this proves the case or not is uncertain. It is to be hoped, however, that an aggregation of men will be chosen of as good merit as the preceding administrators.

G.T.P. Strike Situation

In face of reports to the effect that the railway company is suffering in certain respects, it is strange that the G.T.P. do not take some steps to settle the strike now on. Certainly the public is more or less dissatisfied and they hope for a speedy settlement.

Huge Sum for Publicity Campaign

$100,000 has been subscribed by the city and citizens of Calgary for publicity purposes. One of the strongest campaigns ever heard of will be started in the near future by that city.

Winnipeg makes First Move

It is gratifying to see that the Winnipeg Board of Trade has taken up the question of lower freight rates. The progress and tactics employed will doubtless be imitated by other cities and towns, where excessive rates have been complained of.

Moore on Our Natural Resources

Mr. A. Bramley Moore, the sitting member for this constituency in the local house, and who is recognized as an authority on the provincial control of our natural resources from the fact that he wrote a book on the subject, spoke to the Liberal club in Edmonton last night, his subject being, "Our Natural Resources."

Boundary Settled On

Manitoba has secured the boundary that has been agitated for after a struggle extending over a period of forty years. The boundary remains as fixed by Sir Wilfred Laurier but the subsidy indemnity will be adjusted on an equal basis with Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Wainwright's True Population

It is an oft-repeated statement that the population of Wainwright is 1400, while the true population is considerably less than that number. To give the population at its figure will carry no shame with it in view of the fact that the town is but three years old. The smallest four figure number is nothing to be ashamed of.

Legislature Opens Tomorrow

Alberta's legislature opens tomorrow, when it is expected that a new railway policy will be brought in by Premier Sifton. The premier has but recently returned from Ontario, where it is said that he was negotiating with railway men and other promoters, in this connection. It is to be hoped that such a policy will be introduced that will meet with more unanimous approval than the present policy. In this case, the present Rutherfordites and other insurgents will be brought together and the party united in the provincial house.

Corner Lights For Our Streets

It is noted that in various small towns in the province, the councils have provided for street lamps to be placed at suitable and necessary corners. The suggestion is considered a good one and should be acted upon here as well. The dark winter nights have now set in and with ever coal oil lamps, the inconvenience of travel could be alleviated.

Very Satisfactory Progress

Although the assertion is not made in any boastful manner, we venture to say that no country newspaper in the West has shown such marked improvement during the past year than the STAR. We do not say this without reason. Numerous letters of congratulation and praise bear out this, while the circulation increase of four hundred should be a determining factor also.

Woman's Realm and Kingdom

Sedgewick Sentinel—A woman who fails in her home fails in all. Home is women's realm, given into her hands to regulate, govern and beautify. If she fails here she may look in vain for another kingdom; for she has failed in the only spot, where she could have ultimately succeeded.

Beneficiary Advertising

Daysland Press.—Every line in a newspaper costs the proprietor something. If it is for the benefit of the individual it should be paid for. If the grocer were asked to contribute goods to one abundantly able to pay for them, he would refuse. The proprietor of a newspaper must pay for the free advertising if the beneficiary does not, and yet it is one of the hardest things to be learned by many that a newspaper has space to rent in its columns, and must rent to live. To give away rent for nothing less than living rates is as fatal to a newspaper as for a landlord to furnish rent free.

G.T.P. WILL ERECT MOUNTAIN HOTELS

The Grand Trunk Pacific station formerly known as Fiddle Creek, mile 907.8 west of Wainwright has been changed to Miette Hot Springs. It will be in this locality that the first of the Grand Trunk Pacific mountain hotels will be erected, and it is within seven or eight miles of the Miette Hot Springs that are situated just beyond the famous Roche Miette Mountain which looms up to the west of this station.

The whole of the territory in the vicinity of the Miette Hot Springs station will, without doubt, become one of the greatest mecca in America for the ever increasing tourist traffic with the mountains as an objective point, as everything that goes to make up an attractive mountain resort is found in this locality.

The Miette Hot springs will become famous the world over as the efficacy of the waters of these springs for medical purposes has been proved, and bathing purposes are without comparison. There four springs with temperatures as follows:

111 116 122 127.

NO REASON TO FEAR RESULTS OF HARVEST

The announcement that more than 40,000,000 bushels of grain is yet unthreshed in the West would be sufficient cause for grave alarm, if no remedy for the situation was available. The announcement has from all appearances caused more comment in the East than in that part of Canada where such a state of affairs prevails.

It would perhaps be a relief for these people to know that the situation is not viewed with any degree of alarm in the West for the simple reason that about 20 per cent of the grain is in that condition and the greater part of it will remain so all winter without any damage being done.

CANDIDATURE OF GEO. L. HUDSON ENDORSED

In preparation for the forthcoming convention to be held at Edmonton on December 8th, for the constituency of Alexandria, the Conservatives at Silgo have fallen in line and last week organized an association.

H. D. Walker was elected as president, while J. Gronigan was chosen to fill the office of Vice-President, the secretary treasurer being F. McAfee. A strong executive was also selected from the surrounding district.

After the election of officers, short speeches were delivered by the newly appointed officers and the members of the executive. W. F. Moffatt and George L. Hudson, who were present, also addressed the meeting.

During the evening a resolution was passed endorsing the nomination of George L. Hudson, for the Alexandria candidate.

BIG HOUSE GREETED JUBILEE SINGERS

The largest house that has ever witnessed a performance in the local Auditorium greeted the Jubilee Singers on Thursday evening last. The company was composed of seven accomplished and educated entertainers and certainly gave the large audience their money's worth. W. C. Buckner, the popular bass of the troupe, was heard to great effect, while Miss Smallwood, the accomplished contralto, was given much applause. Many favourable comments have been passed since the entertainment.

A Lofty Dream of Wainwright's Future, Typical of the Ordinary Optimist, Who Sees and Believes

THE COAL SITUATION

The coal situation in the city of Edmonton is assuming a serious aspect. Companies are unable to supply the demand and the famine in the city itself is most acute. The managers of the mines state that the public are responsible in many cases for much delay by not having sufficient money on hand to pay the bill, when the coal is delivered.

Citizen Sees Change in Present Situation in Wainwright

Factories and Railroads

Are Seen Through Veils of Future History

People sometimes experience dreams; enthusiasts often have optimistic fancies, while others, imagining a vision of the hazy future, draw scenes of what is to be. True, these imaginations may never be realized and changes may never come but it is generally the case that some foundation is started from which to build up the hopes and fancies of the future years.

Previous to the Board of Trade banquet, held in the Wainwright Hotel last week, an optimistic businessman, who felt that he would be called upon to say a few words, relative to the town's prospects, experienced a presentiment and in part was as follows:

"In the distance I see Wainwright. Her lofty towers pierce the rain clouds. Her vast, imposing edifices, masterpieces of modern architecture stand forth as achievements of the age. I hear the potent hum of machinery in a thousand factories, working night and day. Her trains rush continuously in and out over a score of railways. Her citizens are men of influence, made so by earnest effort and untiring optimism."

During the course of the evening he was called upon and this is what he said: "Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen, I thank you for the honor you have bestowed upon me in asking me to say a few words. I haven't much to say except that I hope to see Wainwright much larger in the future."

A BARGAIN INDEED

It would be impossible to figure what a benefit The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal has been to the West. It affords the greatest amount of genuine good reading for every member of the family and its benefits to the farming community in its agricultural pages are worth hundreds of thousands of dollars every year. It is not merely a theoretical paper. It is a practical farm paper in every respect and there is no farmer in Canada who cannot profit by reading it. Two cents a week, one dollar a year—the price of one bushel of wheat for a whole year's subscription to that great paper, not to speak of the beautiful premium picture "Home Again," size 22x29 inches, ready for framing. It makes one wonder if the publishers pay their paper bills. Any home in this western country that does not receive the Family Herald and Weekly Star for 1912 will miss a bargain indeed.

WEST. ENJOYING FINE WEATHER

From all appearances, winter has not set in to such an extent as it was first imagined. The last few days have been unusual for this time of the year and has naturally assisted the farmers not a little in the threshing of their grain.

Advertising is the ignition point of liberal patronizing. A merchant does not know of what value it is until he has tried.

RHEUMATISM Cured by Booth's Kidney Pills

T. R. Foster of St. John St., Fredericton, N. B., says: I have found more actual relief from Booth's Kidney Pills than in all I have ever tried for rheumatism. The pains in my limbs have lessened greatly and I am stronger than in previous years. My appetite has built up and I eat and sleep better than I have in over three years. My general health is greatly improved and I can credit this only to Booth's Kidney Pills.

This is the Booth Kidney Pill way. These wonderful Pills are sold under a guarantee to refund your money if they fail to relieve any sufferer from Rheumatism, or any trouble having its origin in the kidneys. They cure Backache, dull shooting pains, thick and cloudy urine, gravel and stone, rheumatism and all diseases of the kidneys and bladder.

POPULAR REENSHIELDS COUPLE UNITED IN MARRIAGE

In the presence of a large circle of relatives and friends, a very pretty wedding ceremony was solemnized at Greenshields on Wednesday last, the principals in the happy event being Mr. Thomas Daniels and Miss Mary Patterson, both of Greenshields. The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Tios. Philips, was held at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Patterson.

ANOTHER REASON IN AID OF MIXED FARMING

Ribstone, Nov. 25. At the William Rockey sale, held here a short time ago, and conducted by Auctioneer L. L. Pound, mixed cows brought from $50 to $60 per head and spring calves $23 each. Hogs also sold well, brood sows bringing $20 to $30 each and shoats $6 to $12.

One pair of black ponies, formerly purchased in Wainwright for $225, sold for $375. Heavy draft horses sold as high as $310 each. Machinery, poultry, etc., brought proportionately high prices. On the proceeds of the sale, 10 per cent was paid in cash to discount.

This certainly is not an indication of hard times or lack of funds so far as agriculture is concerned and only goes to prove the assertion often made by the STAR, that Wainwright, with its fine agricultural resources and railroad facilities is bound to keep up the healthy and rapid growth for which she has already become so widely famed.

WORK STARTED ON G.T.P. HOTEL

Work on the Chateau Laurier, the new $2,000,000 hotel constructed by the Grand Trunk System, is progressing favorably. Nearly all the plastering of the hotel is now completed and there remains to be done only the lobby, bar and grill room ceiling. Most of the marble floors for the dining room, corridor are laid, and after the plaster work of the lobby is completed work will be started on the marble work of that floor. Heat and light have been in the building for the last two months, and when the plaster is sufficiently dried in the various public rooms, the decorators will be able to commence the interior decorations. Some of the wood work for the big rooms is in the hotel and the erection of this is going on. The general appearance of the various rooms is beyond expectation and when completed will be of the richest effect, artistic in design and wonderfully beautiful.

PRINCE RUPERT ADVANCES VERY RAPIDLY NOW

Prince Rupert, British Columbia, the Pacific Coast terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, is going a pace, and for a young city the business that is done there is remarkable. During the month of September there were eighty steamers called at the port and eighty one departures.

The Boss's Wife

A Case Where a Woman's Strategy Was Successful

By CLARISSA MACKIE
Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

The Crane sat all alone on the bench outside the clubhouse door. He had come to sit there because the high sleeping of the Celestia's wife lifted in self company was company for him. The bunk house was empty of the merry crowd which had made it noisy. Over another the trickery of the game and the Lone Bull came until the Crane, as he was nicknamed because of his ungainly height, was the only one left heart free. Married couple were not to get the finger pointed at the Celestia's wife. Can't enjoy a truce, below, and their wives always afraid they're going to fall off and get hurt.

There he sat, the awkward and wife of his comrade in rank injustice, for each one had all the spirit and "finger" of the men they loved. "Your grapes," teased Mrs. Clitlock, the boss's wife as she leaned against the Celestia's. "Why don't you get married yourself, Mr. Crane?" she asked around the corner of the clubhouse and sat down on the bench beside the despondent cattleman.

"I suppose you're always been too busy to think about marrying," began Mrs. Clitlock wryly. "I don't suppose you ever saw a woman you'd care to make your wife."

"The Crane was silent for several moments. He brought out another pipe from his pocket, filled it with tobacco and held it unlit in his big bronzed hand."

"You're mistaken there, ma'am," he said deliberately. "If I had my own way I'd have got married fifteen years ago."

"What happened?" asked Mrs. Clitlock breathlessly.

"He married another fellow," she explained without turning to her husband. "He was uncommonly good."

"Oh, dear, how horrible of her!" "Not that she liked him best," defended the Crane.

"Seems so—or she wouldn't have married him."

"You don't appear to be positive about that fact. Were you—were you engaged to her?"

"Almost."

"How near?"

"All but asking her. I put it off until she came back from getting some cattle."

"I SHALL ALWAYS LOOK ON WINCHESTER AS THE SECOND RANGE, and when I came back she married a traveling salesman and gone away."

"Let me see, the second range is in Idaho," hazarded Mrs. Clitlock.

"Yes."

"I suppose you were cow punching then?"

"Steady."

"Oscar Newton's place is near the second range. He married my cousin."

"That's where I worked."

"The nearest town is Antelope," ventured Mrs. Clitlock, one eye on Crane's thoughtful face.

"He turned a pair of humorous gray eyes to hers. "You oughtn't been a cowboy," he said quietly.

"I ought to be up at the big house this very moment," cried the boss's wife breathlessly. "I believe I hear the baby crying."

"She hurried up the stairs to the large bedroom, passing on the veranda to call down to the lonely figure on the bench. "Why don't you come up here and see the photograph?" No need to sit down there alone."

"Maybe I will by and by," said the Crane.

Mendacious Mrs. Clitlock peeped in at the chamber door, set the lamp on her writing desk and drew a sheet of paper toward her. The letter she wrote was dotted with "interrogation marks." It was addressed to Oscar Newton's wife and its destination was Antelope, Ida.

"She thrust a record into the photograph, wound up the crank and as it whirled forth the strains of "Love's Old Sweet Song," she buried down the hill toward Jim Lewis' house. "The you mind going up and sitting with the baby, Mr. Crane? I've not to go down to Lewis'. They're going to the country in the morning, and I've got to tell to send home."

"I'll take the letters down to Jim," promised Crane obligingly.

"Oh, no, you," insisted Mrs. Clitlock. "You look after baby and be sure and don't wake him up."

"The lady forbid!" ejaculated Crane, catching the Celestia's look.

When Mrs. Clitlock returned the Celestia was endeavoring to push the baby's head into the Celestia's arms. "You'll always look after him, won't you?" she said, tenderly, the Celestia's baby to his mother's outstretched arms. "I shall always look after him with you, as you say, just for the way they can turn off the music with a word. I been thinking, Du-uh, this father for a half hour, and he only looks back at me."

HE CHANGED HIS MIND.

It Made a Difference Whom Head Was on His Shoulder.

After he had roughly shaken off the head of the third bed passenger who had sought refuge on his shoulder, the stout man proclaimed in a voice loud enough to be heard by everybody in the car that the next time anybody went to sleep with him he would be on his shoulder he would give that head a good punching, that's what he would do.

The stout man's wife said, "So-so-ab, James. Don't get so violent."

"Violent?" said the stout man. "I'm a right to be violent. I'm no pillow. I'm no feather bed. If anybody thinks I am, just let him come on and I'll show him."

At the next station two women came in and found seats over the stout man. Presently the younger and prettier of the two began to nod. Lower and lower dropped her head, and soon it lay on a substantial resting place. The stout man sat still; so very still did he sit that his wife wondered what had happened to him. She leaned over and looked at his bulky frame to find out. Her face flushed.

"Why, James," she said indignantly. "Don't you remember what you said a little while ago about punching heads? There's a head on your shoulder now."

"I don't," said the stout man meekly. "I didn't notice it."

It was apparent that if there was any head punching to be done some body besides James would have to do it. The woman on his shoulder was perfectly willing to undertake the job.

"James," said the stout man's wife significantly. "If I had my head on your shoulder, I would be a good punching to be done."

He wriggled uneasily until the head was gently dislodged; then the stout man and his wife changed places.—New York Times.

Really modern couples are just as apt to be truly married as the old-fashioned ones. A young Cleveland woman who is often described as a "map about love," became engaged not long ago, and she spoke as follows to the lady who had honored him.

"I don't want to have anything that I might regret after we are married. So I may as well tell you that I play poker. I smoke cigarettes. I drink. I stay out late and I bet on the races."

"I'm glad to hear you say so," said the lady to date girl, brightly. "I was so afraid that you and I wouldn't be perfectly compatible."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

This anecdote was famous in the 70's. As it concerns W. S. Gilbert, lately deceased, it is reprinted on a chance.

The first performance of "Pinafore" in London enlisted an actor named Standing, to whom the librettist wrote a violent dislike. This was a true weakness in the burlesque of British politics and old-time Italian opera, and a friend of Gilbert's, contemplating him, predicted that it would run a year.

To which Gilbert added: "Notwithstanding."—Chicago Post.

His Treat.

"How," he murmured in passionate tones, leaning across the table, "how can you treat me?"

A shadow crossed his brow. Then he said frankly, "Well, I got $25 on my watch today."

Her face was wreathed in smiles. "Let's have some more lobster," she murmured.—Toledo Blade.

HE WAS STILL WAITING.

Tragedy in a Parlor Learned by Years of Waiting.

Experiences in New Jersey.

"My last night," continued the dilapidated gentleman, "was in New Jersey and only lasted the night. My arrival came about in a rather singular way—that is, it would be accounted singular out of New Jersey. I had been waiting for a long time, and about 12 o'clock I sat down on the roadside to rest and have a good rest. A farmer came along, riding a bull, and just as he passed me the bull broke away, knocked the man down and jumped into a field and gored a calf."

Although I offered my services to help capture the bull, the farmer insisted that I was to blame and not the animal. It was claimed that my presence excited the animal to run, and the ridiculous charge I was sent to jail for five days. I told the judge that I had no money to stand on my legal rights as a prisoner, and though he smiled over it, he carried out his part of the contract to the very last day.

Wrongfully Held Eight Hours.

"My sentence of five days expired at noon of a certain Wednesday. I told the judge that I had no money to stand on my legal rights as a prisoner, and though he smiled over it, he carried out his part of the contract to the very last day."

What is being brought into the local elevator at a very low rate and the grades are about the same as they have been since the first grain was threshed. More grain from the northern parts of the district is expected in daily.

Refined Moving Pictures

Small Bros., the enterprising managers of the local moving picture theatre, are meeting with deserving patronage from the public and each night sees a packed house at the popular place of amusement. It is also well to note that the pictures are decidedly up to the standard of the city theatres and are of a refined and cultured nature.

Having Fine Success

Lou McLuhan and John Gano, who left here for the wilds of northern Ontario about six weeks ago, have been doing a tall stroke of big game shooting for sometime past. They have already shot as many deer, moose and cariboo as the law allows.

Station Being Painted Inside

Men are at present at work on the local station and are painting the interior anew. What has already been completed makes a decided change in the appearance of the premises.
